

The wooden windows, doors and classic furnitures are the perfect decoration of the house, which compose a beautiful scene in the home.

This is a Townhouse with more than 500 m², located in the suburb of Beijing. As the second home of the owner, a graceful lady, the house is actually a good place for friends gathering and parties. Every weekend, the host will invite her friends or stay with her family here to spend the quiet but cozy holidays.

Because lived in Japan before, the owner prefers the simple Japanese design style and traditional Chinese garden. Therefore, the designer mix the oriental elements and Chinese Garden space plan together to create a simple but clean style.